Important: Hillside Reading Scheme

The list below illustrates the banded reading order and expected age range that your child will follow whilst at Hillside.

Book Band Colour	Reading Age
Lilac Pink Red Yellow	Foundation Stage (Nursery/Reception)
Light Blue Green Orange Turquoise Purple Gold	KSI
White Lime Brown Grey Dark Blue Maroon	KS2

Children in the Nursery will begin by reading picture books, a perfect springboard for rich conversations about a variety of topics. Your child will be learning to read using phonics and the lilac and pink book bands are perfect for children taking their first steps in reading. Your children will enjoy exploring the humorous illustrations and familiar situations. As your child's phonics begins to develop they will be given two books to read. (This usually begins at reception age) One will be from the reading scheme and the other will require them to apply the phonics sounds they have learnt in lesson.

Hillside Reading Expectations at

- Children should read or share a book with an adult for at least 10 minutes on every school day.
- Repetition is good to build up confidence. Books will be changed on a Monday, Wednesday and Friday so don't be afraid to read the same book twice to build confidence, or if your child is fed up of their book pick a favourite book from home and share together.
- When your child reads at home, please sign their reading record and write any necessary comments. This may be their reading book or any other form of reading that you have done with them e.g.
 reading signs on a journey, looking at a comic, a bed time story etc.
- Please ensure children have their reading book and reading diary in school every day as this will be monitored and rewarded.
- Don't forget to focus upon basic comprehension skills- question your child about what they have read. You will find a list of questions in your child's reading diary.
- Phonics cards will be sent home to support your child. The cards will reinforce the learning that is

Learning to Read Using Phonics

Phonics is the tool used in schools to teach children to read and spell. Phonics is recommended as the first strategy that children should be taught in helping them learn to read.

So, what exactly is phonics? Words are made up from small units of sound called phonemes. Phonics teaches children to be able to listen carefully and identify the phonemes that make up each word. This helps children to learn to read words and to spell words.

In phonics lessons children are taught three main things: They are taught GPCs. This stands for grapheme phoneme correspondences. This simply means that they are taught all the phonemes in the English language and ways of writing them down. Secondly, children are taught to be able to blend. This is when children say the sounds that make up a word and are able to merge the sounds together until they can hear what the word is. This skill is vital in learning to read.

Finally, children are also taught to segment. This is the opposite of blending. Children are able to say a word and then break it up into the phonemes that make it up. This skill is vital in being able to spell words.

Top Tips for Encouraging Reading

As parents you are your child's most influential teacher with an important part to play in helping your child to learn to read.

Here are some suggestions on how you can help to make this a positive experience.

1. Choose a quiet time

Set aside a quiet time with no distractions. Ten to fifteen minutes is usually long enough.

2. Give your child thinking time.

When you talk to your child about what's going on in a book, give them plenty of time to respond. Try to ask questions that don't require just yes or no answers. For example, ask them what they think will happen next ask or about how a character might be feeling

3. Don't be shy-relax and have fun.

Use your hands and face as well as your voice - your child will love to see you smiling. Use animal sounds like woof, growl and hoot - this will really help to bring the story to life. Stories and rhymes can be shared with the whole family so why not irwite siblings or other family members to join in? and remember is he or she is reluctant to read then do not pressurise them.

4. Be positive

If your child says something nearly right to start with that is fine. Boost your child's confidence with constant praise for even the smallest achievement.

5. Success is the key

Parents anxious for a child to progress can mistakenly give a child worded books too soon. This can have the opposite effect to the one they are wanting. Remember. until your child has built up his or her confidence, it is better to keep to picture books.

6. Visit the Library

Encourage your child to use the public library regularly.

7. Regular practice

Try to read with your child on most school days. Little and often is best.

8. Communicate

Your child's reading diary from school is very important. Try to communicate regularly with positive comments and any concerns. Your child will then know that you are interested in their progress and that you value reading.

9. Talk about the books

There is more to being a good reader than just being able to read the words accurately. Just as important is being able to understand what has been read. Always talk to your child about the book; about the pictures, the characters, how they think the story will end, their favourite part. You will then be able to see how well they have understood and you will help them to develop good comprehension skills.

10. Variety is important

Remember children need to experience a variety of reading materials e.g. picture books, hard backs, comics, magazines, poems, and information books.
